GOAL_Saltley successfully obtains Open College Network Centre status

Go-Woman! Alliance CIC (GOAL)'s satellite site, GOAL_Saltley based in Saltley area of Birmingham is delighted at successfully becoming an Open College Network centre.

Yasmin Akhtar, project manager at the group, said "Ability to offer nationally recognised qualifications in the community will help us to support those individuals that are ready to move onto the next step in learning.

With the support of the Internet Café, it has now become more accessible for individuals to access learning at community level. Ability to offer nationally recognised qualifications adds to the portfolio of services currently offered at the satellite site, providing a greater choice for the learners."

OCNWMR is an awarding organisation committed to providing a high quality and responsive accreditation service. OCNWMR support flexible, responsive and quality assured learning opportunities in a wide range of contexts, including in the classroom, at work, in the community, and through distance and e-learning.
