

Turkey - May 2015

This was my first educational tour and I'm pleased to say that I had thoroughly enjoyed myself. On this visit we were lucky enough to go to two different parts of Turkey, one being Istanbul. In Istanbul we stayed there for only a short while but we managed to see some popular places like Blue mosque, Topkapı palace and Grand Bazaar. These places were delightful and amazing. I've got some great memories of the people there who were really nice and friendly. Our hosts were wonderful and very helpful. They took us on a cultural visit and shopping as well.

The second place we visited is Cappadocia. In Cappadocia we visited 2 different types of schools. The structures of these schools were really nice and beautiful. They were plenty of resources including computer labs, cafe and many more but only disadvantage that I found there is additional staff, lack of English resources and extra support for the students. I felt that the school hours are too long as they finished in the evening. I am grateful for the existence of European Project as it allows people who can't afford to travel to see and appreciate the different countries and their cultures. Finally I really recommend these types of projects for the future.
